I had been using it for years to check the weather and daily temperature until one day my mother told me to check the radar... Which radar? It's the weather channel app's radar, she replied. As soon as I downloaded this app, it changed my life. Watch radar when storms come, watch videos about current weather and environmental news, alerts and notifications about changes in weather... It's amazing! Somehow your friends always think you are smart when you know the weather. Thanks, weather channel app, always tell me when it rains, you've saved some destroyed bonfires! Plus it tells you at what time until the moment it starts raining... And it's always pretty accurate! All in all, this app is pretty great. It was my dream weather app until I got it, like a dream weather app I didn't know existed. Through it all the app was there for me, always telling me exact predictions and alerting me with weather notifications. Sometimes getting notifications from the Weather Channel app is much better than getting a text from your boyfriend. The Weather Channel app is easily my favorite app. Reliable, reliable and always tells you the weather. No strings attached! Thanks for the feedback! Have a good summer. My wife and I sometimes have to travel to Texas with our children, and the weather changes and fluctuates a lot. We may be in central Texas in San Antonio with high temperatures and strong winds (allergens: dust and pollen) and we will change dramatically as low temperatures venture into East Texas surrounding Houston, but with relative humidity and a large increase in dew points (allergens: mold and grass). Having a family with a variety of allergies compounded by the need to be vigilant about the novel coronavirus (CoVid-19) can leave. If you're not prepared for the changing weather, you're one of us who cares about your health. Another major advantage of having a weather channel is the weather warning that warns us of bad weather. We have received warnings/bulletins about bad weather outside our area many times, but many times within areas with elderly families. We were able to call them and advise them to take the necessary precautions. This was a god's gift. The ability to see the latest forecasts for any city or region on the Weather Channel allows us to plan specific activities and excursions while taking the necessary precautions. All this is much more conveniently located at the touch of a button on one site - Weather Channel! The Medina family 89 manufacturing business in the South, where I am. We work mainly in open warehouses, so the weather is very important and y'all had an important part. Video: The basic video provided at one time was a weather segment across the country. 1. Electronics, Northeast, Southeast, Midwest, Southwest and Northwest. For now, the melange of weather top stories, the subtitles of background music and stories and somewhat trivial stories aren't necessarily related to the everyday American weather. It seems you have to feed through the poo to get what you're looking for. There was also monthly data that showed the average of where compared to the average of their area and rolling average. That's completely gone. These days it's basic local facts and sensationalism. I'm afraid that you don't know how to get it back. Finally, it's interesting that lions post an average of 4.6 when their comment share is negative. Himmmm math channel? Updates; The score had to be corrected. I originally gave it 2 stars. Very interesting, maybe it answered my score question. So now I gave it 1. What if you could see more than 1 star? It wasn't me.
